naturaltransition.com INTRODUCES MEMBERS AREA

Natural Transition announces to launch an exclusive interactive web-page for its members

London, UK, October 10, 2008— Natural Transition launches a members only area for its website naturaltransition.com where the visitors can get useful information on homeopathy, pregnancy, breastfeeding and baby care.

The new member area offers videos, audios, news articles and valuable information on natural therapies and homeopathy. The most exciting feature that is added for the naturaltransitions.com members is the online fertility charting service that will help them to keep track of their fertility signs.

Julie Cotler, owner of naturaltransition.com, says “Currently we have uploaded 7 hrs of audio that includes soothing tracks for babies, informative interviews articles, and we are planning to include plenty of other informative videos and audios. These audio files are free to download for the naturaltransition.com members.”

Julie Cotler is an experienced naturopath and was recently interviewed by Lena of MaternityAcupressure.com on breastfeeding, natural and homeopathic therapies for infants, baby massages and other motherhood related topics. The transcripts and audio files of the interview and therapies are also available for the members to download.

Andrew Bonar co-Founder of Bonar Media says, “We are very excited to launch this member area for naturaltransition.com. We have integrated this web-page with CMS custom that will help Julie to update the website herself.”

The member area is an interactive resource where you can send your suggestions as well as feedback on the website content and its presentation.
